Sun Named Fourth Best Newspaper in Nation

The Sun was honored this week as the only California newspaper to receive national recognition for general excellence in a category which includes the largest weekly newspaper in the country.

The Sun was also awarded recognition, fourth place for newspaper promotion and community relations, and was the only weekly newspaper in the nation to receive honors in this field. The first three places were won by daily newspapers.

The awards were made last night at the Award Night Dinner in Salt Lake City in the Better Newspaper Contest sponsored by the National Editorial Association.

THE SUN received fourth place in general excellence among stiff competition from more than 2000 other newspapers from all over the United States.

The award recognizes The Sun for being superior in general layout, news coverage, photographic presentation, editorial page, advertising, classified pages, sports and society.

The award was especially welcome following an award for general excellence on the state level which was presented to The Sun two months ago by the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

A similar award in newspaper promotion and community relations was also received by The Sun on the state level at the same time.

THIS MAKES a total of 28 national and state awards presented to The Sun by the newspaper industry itself in recognition of outstanding presentation of news, community service and advertising.

"We are deeply grateful for the honor," said Sun Publisher Herman Silverman upon being notified of the awards. "We could not have done it without the complete cooperation of the fine people of our community, both our readers and our advertisers. It is they who made this possible.

"I would also like to congratulate the hard-working members of our staff, in all departments, because they are the people who have put our ideas into reality, and have produced a newspaper which the industry has felt worthy of honor."

Don't Do It!

DON'T TAKE IT! That man behind the tree may just be a friend of the family . . . or he may be something very dangerous! If he is a deviate . . . a child molester . . . then this young girl is in real trouble. Unfortunately, such things as this have happened in our community. It is up to each of us to see that our children know the rules that may save them from embarrassment, or worse.

School Construction Delay Asked

Law Compels Polio Shots For School Attendance

Get your polio immunizations now!

According to a proposal signed by Gov. Edmund Brown recently, teachers and students who have not been immunized will be barred from classrooms.

THE BILL, authored by Assemblyman W. Byron Rumford of Berkeley and Bert DeLotto of Fresno, requires written notice of immunization before children and adults can be admitted to elementary and high school classrooms.

Exemptions to the law are those whose health would be endangered by the shots or whose religion prohibit vaccination.

However, in such cases, school officials can prevent these students from attending school until it is determined they do not have polio.

Regulations have to be set up for enforcing the law. Officials believe most people will take their children to private physicians.

COUNTY PROGRAMS are being conducted for those who cannot afford to pay.

The State Department of Public Health is to develop the procedures to expedite the bill.

School officials are required to cooperate with county health officials to have an immunization program in operation by January 1, 1962.

Supervisors Delay Decision on Pay Advance to Ass'n

County Supervisors Mel F. Nielson of Lafayette has suggested that the contract of the Contra Costa Development Association be reviewed every month instead of once a year.

The recommendation was made Tuesday at the supervisors' weekly meeting.

Nielson made the suggestion as the board was considering a $5000 advance on the association's contract for next year.

County Administrator J. P. McBrien said the amount is necessary in order for the association to meet its June payroll.

A decision on the matter will be made Tuesday when Supervisor Tom Coll returns from his vacation.

THE ASSOCIATION is a semi-official publicity agent of the county that receives funds from the county annually.

This year the association is asking $64,000, a $1000 increase over last year's budget.

Last month Coll proposed that the county create its own promotional department.

He suggested that it be called the Contra Costa Industrial and Commercial Development Commission.

He said it would cost the taxpayers approximately $25,000 the first year.

Supervisor Edmund Linscheid suggested the delay in any decision on the matter.

Group Says Rheem High Building Is Premature

By JEAN JERNIGAN

A committee of parents appeared before the Orinda Union School District board to voice their protest over the construction of Rheem High School at this time.

Tom Mueller, speaking for the committee, told the board they had no quarrel with the site chosen for the school, but they felt the construction of the building should be delayed for two to three years.

Mueller cited the following reasons: "We do not think that there are enough students in the immediate area of the proposed high school to fill one class. This will mean splitting students in graduating classes, drawing them from other districts to fill Rheem.

"WE DO NOT believe that the small initial classes at Rheem will provide the academic opportunities now existing at Miramonte. What will become of our eighth grade students who will have completed accelerated programs, advanced math and science?

"We wonder if Rheem will be able to provide these students with biology in their freshman year and the advanced courses they will need.

"Secondly, we don't understand why it is not more economical to utilize Miramonte to its fullest capacity and expansion, than it is to build the new high school.

"As our third point, we feel that our parents are closely allied to Miramonte. We've all worked together for five or more years. A strong parents club is essential to providing the 'extras' for a school.

"GEOGRAPHICALLY speaking, the parents of students attending Rheem would be split. We don't think under these circumstances we could provide the support the school should have. If construction is delayed for two or three years, we feel the way the Moraga area is growing, there would be sufficient students in the immediate area to fill the class and provide parent support."

Orville Grigsby, a member of the committee, said, "We are not being emotional over this proposed school. We sincerely feel it would be a disadvantage to our children. We prefer that it is not built at this time."

The group was obviously distressed at the thought of splitting next year's graduating class from the Donald Rheem School.

UNIFICATION and its future effect on both the Acalanes Union High School District and the Orinda Unified School District boundaries was mentioned.

However, a member of the board said that a bill delaying action on unification until 1967 had passed both houses in the State Legislature and presumably would be signed into law by Governor Brown.

No formal action was asked of the Orinda board by the parents committee and none was taken. J. Gordon Ainsworth, a member of the Orinda board, said he did not feel the board should protest construction of the Rheem High School to the Acalanes board.

The parents committee will voice their feelings before the Acalanes board Monday night.

ACCORDING to Acalanes district officials, no actual attendance boundaries have been established as yet. A proposal outlining temporary boundaries was submitted about three weeks ago.

The tentative boundaries include the Glorietta Elementary School area, the Vallecito Elementary School area and the Lafayette School area south to Powell from Vallecito to Del Valle. Also included tentatively is the Moraga Elementary School area, Bollinger Canyon and Rheem Center areas.

In making the temporary boundary study, the district planned to keep from overloading Miramonte and Acalanes High Schools, considered proximity of people to the site of the proposed Rheem High School, and the trend of population growth.

NO FINAL recommendations of boundaries will be presented to the Acalanes board until after an enrollment count is taken in the schools in areas involved in October.

The public will have an opportunity to learn of the final boundaries before they are acted on by the board and are definitely established sometime in the fall.

Recommendation 'Horrifies' Plan Commissioner

"Ridiculous," a county planning commissioner told The Sun this week, as he referred to a recommendation made by a committee of the 1960-61 Grand Jury.

The committee recommended that people in the real estate profession and building business be represented on the Contra Costa Planning Commission.

The commissioner explained that if this recommendation were followed it might result in competitors sitting in judgment against competitor, perhaps even his own firm. He added that pressure groups with selfish interest would be provided with a tool to push through their interests, if the recommendation were followed.

"THIS REMINDS me of 1954 when title companies and real estate men tried to push through quarter acre zoning. I think that public interest in the planning commission has dwindled recently.

"The public is becoming apathetic. I think that improvement associations and homeowner groups should be more concerned with matters that come before the commissions. We do have an occasional turnout when some issue arises, but these people should be concerned all the time, not just when some issue approaches their back yard."

Regarding the Grand Jury committee's suggestion that night meetings be abolished, the commissioner said, "It is one thing to take two or three days a month for a field trip, but quite another to take one or more afternoons off a week for a meeting. This could be very difficult for commissioners who have to earn a living.

"IF THIS recommendation is followed, I am afraid the commission would lose the type of person it needs."

As for the recommendation that in all cases the term of office of a commissioner should terminate at age 70, this commissioner remarked, "I don't think age has anything to do with it.

"If a person is qualified, by background and training, is mentally alert, then I see no reason why he shouldn't serve regardless of age."

In concluding his remarks to The Sun, the commissioner said, "Usually the Grand Jury committee talks with members of the commission regarding the commission's duties, their recommendations and suggestions.

"This time around not one member of the committee talked to anyone serving on the planning commission."

Trustees Accept $95,734 Bid on Office Building

Kirkham, Chaon & Kirkham, with a base bid of $95,734, were unanimously accepted as builders for the Orinda Union School District's new 4800-square-foot administration building to be constructed on a site by the Pine Grove School.

The bid was accepted at the school board trustees' meeting Monday night at Pine Grove. Three other bids were opened. They were from N. T. Lewis (all base bids), $104,069; A. T. Mercier, $100,547, and Fred C. Von Guenther, $99,300.

THE TRUSTEES discussed alternate bids of 1 and 1-A for air conditioning or future air conditioning. Kirkham, Chaon & Kirkham submitted an alternate bid of $26,266 for air conditioning and $14,843 for future air conditioning provisions.

Both Philip Bush and Nathan Gray, chairman of the board, expressed opinions that $26,266 seemed high for air conditioning.

Various types of air conditioning were discussed and the board ultimately decided to have Jim Anderson, architect, review the methods and costs and postponed decision until Monday night at an adjourned meeting of the board at Pine Grove School.

In other business, representatives from the insurance firms of Putnam and Weaver, R. M. Goldman and Courtright and White presented their plans and premiums in accordance with a directive prepared by the trustees and the insurance committee.

PRICES ARE not quoted, although they were quoted at the board meeting, for both trustees and insurance men are in accord that this is not a "bidding" situation.

The insurance committee and Jim Jentges, district business advisor, recommended Putnam & Weaver. However, both commended the services provided previously by Ken Courtright and held no criticism for his firm.

The district and the committee have been concerned with the financial aspect of the situation. Putnam & Weaver appeared to have the best value for dollars and cents. However, trustees pointed out, services and coverages are complicated to compare.

For example, a proposal to service the district which appeared to be considerably less than other proposals, when scrutinized by the trustees in comparative coverages, soon rose to an approximate figure.

THE TRUSTEES were advised by the citizen's insurance committee, composed of able men in the business, that the primary factor was selection of the agent . . . the program then to be worked out.

Decision on the insurance proposals will be made Monday.

In other business the board heard a committee of parents on their views on construction of Rheem High School. (See separate story.) The trustees also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Nancy Lee Acker.

Court Unification Decision Delayed

Consideration of a proposal by county administrator J. P. McBrien to consolidate Contra Costa's lower courts into a single municipal court district has been postponed until 2 p.m., July 25 by the board of supervisors.

The plan proposed by McBrien would combine the four municipal and 13 justice courts into a single municipal court with departments where they are needed to handle the workload.

McBrien requested the delay to allow the Contra Costa Bar Association time to submit a recommendation. He said the unification would save taxpayers about $160,000 the first year, without lessening the quality of justice.

Consolidation would result in an annual savings of nearly $500,000 by 1981, McBrien said.

Child Molestors: Control Begins in the Home . . .

"If parents would only instruct their children properly, we could go a long way in stopping or preventing child molesting cases and indecent exposure," said Deputy Sheriff John Snyder.

This statement followed the apprehension of four individuals in the past two weeks in the Central Contra Costa area.

The guilty parties were all juveniles under 18 years of age. One boy was responsible for six cases of indecent exposure in the Orinda area and one in Concord. Two boys were arrested in Lafayette and one in Pleasant Hill.

WHAT CAN be done about this?

"The most important thing is the proper education of the children," said Snyder. "Of course, all children should be instructed never to talk with strangers, and above all, not to get into an automobile with them.

"If the youngsters can read and write, the most important thing to us is a license number. If we have that, we can pick up the responsible party in three or four hours," he said.

"If a child can't get a license number," Snyder added, "then a good description of the offender and/or his car will help us."

Snyder said that there has been very little trouble with child molestation as such by adults in the area, but that there have been cases of indecent exposure. In the recent instance the youngsters responsible were turned over to the juvenile authorities for psychiatric care.

IN THE PLEASANT Hill incident a 13-year-old girl was alert enough to take down the license number of the offending boy and he was promptly picked up by the Sheriff's office.

Following the report by Snyder was a bulletin from J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who said:

"Now that vacation time is here for our school children and they are enjoying happy, carefree hours, it is doubly important that all parents once again emphasize to their youngsters the menace of the child molester."

SNYDER issued one more request to parents and children. "If a youngster is approached by a stranger, even if nothing happens, we want to know about it.

"We want to tell these people that we won't tolerate them bothering children under any circumstances."

But all authorities agreed that the best prevention of such cases involves the proper parental instruction at home.

Jury Committee Finds St. Mary's Road Inadequate

Roads in Lafayete-Orinda-Moraga area were found to be in basically good repair this week by the Public Works Committee of the Contra Costa County Grand Jury, but St. Mary's Road came in for particular attention.

"St. Mary's Road is winding and narrow and should be widened, as it is heavily trafficked," the committee said.

Also, "Plans and specifications are ready for construction as soon as funds are available."

ACCORDING to County Public Works Director Victor Sauer, funds are included in the 1961-62 budget for this project.

Regarding other roads in the area, the committee recommended:

Moraga Road at Rheem Boulevard. Realign the intersection to keep pace with development in the area.

On Moraga Road, between Lafayette and Rheem, utility poles alongside the road should be reflectorized at the base, as they blend into the landscape at night.

This road has inadequate shoulders which should have attention due to heavy traffic.

ACALANES ROAD: Acquire right of way for future road construction—present road is narrow and should be widened or relocated to provide a better connection to Glorietta Boulevard.

In their general recommendations the committee suggested that the board of supervisors adopt an ordinance covering the installation of sidewalks, curbs and gutters for the county schools and public buildings.

Also recommended was that the county inform the state highway division to paint arrows on all freeways, whereon motorists enter or exit to aid in showing proper travel direction and help eliminate wrong-way drivers.

Firecrackers Illegal, Fire Marshal Warns

Fire Marshall William Koch has called attention to County Ordinance 180 which prohibits the selling-possessing or shooting of firecrackers within Contra Costa County.

Koch states, "Quoting an ordinance to a youngster means very little unless parents set a good example, which leaves much to be desired in Orinda, remember-last year."

Gas Prices Up 3 Cents

Gas prices in the area jumped three cents Monday at all major stations.

Independent stations followed the example of the major stations and quickly raised their prices three cents.

Most major stations are now selling regular for 27.9.

Independents kept their prices a penny cheaper at 26.9.

Ethyl at most major stations is selling for 30.9.

The prices now in effect at major stations are still five cents below the normal asking price for gasoline prior to the "war" which began some four months ago.

Gas prices were at their lowest point six weeks ago when some major stations were asking 19.9. Most stations were at 21.9, however.

Following an ultimatum by Standard Oil Company, prices quickly jumped to 29.9 for regular at all Standard stations. Other major stations were quick to do likewise.

Less than a week after the big jump to 29.9, prices began falling again. They reached 24.9 10 days ago.

Whether the asking price will continue to go up or will be cut again is just a matter of speculation at the present time.

El Toyonal Road Improvements Are Ordered

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday approved Public Works Department Work Order 4154, for El Toyonal Road improvements.

The public works director was directed to widen cut slope and pavement five feet at station 75 plus 50 to 80 plus 50 and install 40 lineal feet of 18-inch culvert and type A inlet on El Toyonal. Work is to be accomplished with county forces, estimated cost of $4500.

WHAT SHALL WE DO this summer? This question, which has proven a real problem to many local teen-agers, has been solved by this group. Looking over jobs available at the Volunteer Bureau are, seated, left to right, Maralyn Singer of Orinda, who served 60 hours last year with the health department; Gail Richardson of Lafayette, who worked 90 hours with the Lafayette Recreation Program; standing left, Bill Cawley of Walnut Creek, 90 hours with the YMCA and the Concord Recreation Department, and Kathi Chase of Orinda, 50 hours with the health department.

Suburbia Scribblings

Hot Under the Collar

Graduation has come & gone . . . As one younger brother quipped to his mother, "Everybody sure is getting older" . . .

Everybody, that is, except George Brockhurst!

THE 90-YEAR-old Orindan, a familiar sight walking the biways & hiways of Orinda, could probably out-walk Harry Truman in an early morning stroll . . . At least, around here where George takes the El Toyonal hill better than you or I could!

IT'S BEEN A WEEPY time, this June . . . We're all wrung out. Between weddings & graduation (& a few tears shed over inevitable vacation time) it has been an emotional upheaval, ho!

As Caroline Walsh cried, dashing into Ogden's w/a petticoat (for Pam) to exchange the day of Pine Grove's graduation night—"I don't think I could ever get through a wedding in the family. This is too much for me!"

MOTHERS were wrought w/nerves. The new shirts brought home hadn't been tried on till the 11th hour & then they were too small . . . A quick dash to the store for exchange, not to mention the graduation gifts & getting the family fed & dressed & ready on time for the promotional ritual.

AS one sweaty-browed boy said it—"Why can't they just promote us?" . . . I guess we were all Hot Under The Collar.

Peggy Kirby, mother of two grads, Tom & Jerry, blew to a new suit for the Big Occasion—but w/the raging temperature, she hung it back in the closet & put on her comfortable duds. Worse yet, the Orinda Park lady lifeguard, used to barefeet or thong sandals all day long, forced herself into her shiny red pumps—Many of us did likewise & if you suffered uncomfortably, you had PLENTY of company!

THE CHARLES ROSENTHALS brought their own Japanese fans for the Pine Grove graduation . . . & the paper programs came in handy for something else besides the graduates' names.

AT THE BACCALAUREATE for Miramonte Class of June '61, Rev. Corwin Calavan's talk, concerned w/the young people now leaving their local nest for flight to the outside world, had lots of Food For Thought . . . & much to reflect on for the adults in the audience.

THE FINE words eloquently spoken by Pine Grovers Cathy Adams, Peggy Rose, John Clayton, Betsey Jones, Linda Rice & John Poole left you sitting there open-mouthed (as was Dorothy Nickerson up front w/Mr. Boyce) & w/a sizeable lump in your throat, not to mention a few wet ones blurring your eyes & slipping down your cheeks.

Some of our best handkerchiefs have gone to the laundry!

The 8th grade graduate speakers were each followed by a choral number from the class directed by Mr. Robert Luoma . . . Stirring numbers like the song "I Believe," "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "My Native Land" . . . & "You'll Never Walk Alone" . . . Jeepers, it was weepy, but very inspirational.

Lump in the Throat

MR. LUOMA, who could coax a Hi-C from a frog, was in ecstacy, almost floating, sometime flying, as he led the grads through the songs . . . What the audience doesn't see is that following a number well done, he lets the youngsters know it by rolling his eyes, wiggling his eyebrows, forming his index finger & thumb into a "oooh, superlative!" sign. At one point, poised for flight in mid-air, he looked like he would take off "right out of this world!" The music was beautiful & it's gratifying to see someone so "in tune" w/his work!

FRONT ROW sat Mr. William Hester, 8th grade teacher, in his wheelchair . . . he had left the hospital, where he's mending a broken leg, just for the graduation exercises & couldn't take his eyes off the young people.

AS the class came forward, one by one, to receive thei rdiplomas from Nathan Gray, President, Board of Trustees, we couldn't help going back through the years—These same splendid & scrubbed & fine looking young men were once the kids who gave us such an active time in Cubscouting.

HOW LOVELY the young ladies in their pretty white dresses, some smiling sadly, some happily, some blinking back the tears, some searching the crowd for their families . . . One girl winking slowly at her mother as much to say "I love you & I know you're proud of me!"

THE FIRST flush & blush of young womanhood on some of the girls who wore their lipsticks light & pink-toned in shades of Coral Vanilla & Orange Flake—which sound delicious & more like a flavor of ice cream to me!

A more poised group of youngsters I have never seen. We were never that smart or confident, that charming or gracious & I don't think the world will be quite so troubled when they & their generation take over!

IN THE AUDIENCE: A cool garden of flower petals hugging the head of Helen Gibbs . . . Dick Kendall, in the stand-up crowd, fluttering a big white hanky at his daughter Crissie . . . Bea Comerford's grad girl taller than SHE is! Teacher Boris Arnov sporting a Van Dyke beard . . . Irv Moore dashing up front w/a flashbulb camera.

CONGRATULATIONS! Tall Marge Tessman, pretty orchids pinned to her shoulder, hugging her dghtr. Pat Hawkins . . . The Howard Youngs kissing their Carolyn . . . Ted Schilling Jr. sporting a white wool jacket . . . Linda Sage shedding a few on her father's shoulder . . . Tall Steve Gentry & his tall fine father . . .

ONWARD & UPWARD in the traffic jam passing an incongruous sight in the 10 o'clock hour—Two, then one single, young fellows huffing & puffing along the highway, in training for something, but at that rate, they won't last long—Not on Moraga Hiwy., where you can't see 'em, but hardly!

PINE GROVE's auditorium ready for the Graduation Dance, decorated sumptuously & more like that of a Senior Ball . . . Beautiful paper flowers covering the ceiling—Murals of yellow-eyed black panthers stalking along the side walls . . . A straw hut in the center floor, fashioned by Char Chapple from Mexican rain capes, rice mats & bamboo . . .

HUDDLES of giggling, some teary-eyed girls . . . Boys seeking out signers for the dance bids . . . The Miramonte Jazz Quintet, in jungle attire, breaking out w/the strains of a slow one—"These Foolish Things" & one kid remarking to another—"Whaddawe got tonight? Lawrence Walk?"

THE MJQ proved themselves after the first slow one & made stalwart fans out of the Pine Grovers. It was a Big Night alright & when our Young Man came home shortly after midnight, we shared a coke & sat up w/him till 1:30 while he pasted up commemorative stamps in his new gift album & like all the other grads, happy but weary, he slept in till noon the next day! Up at 4 for a move to Boise, Idaho, were the Simonsens. The Neuenschwanders left for Puerto Rica.

WE'RE HAVING A HEAT WAVE: Some of the stores around town, w/their air-conditioning systems, were the coolest places to be during the hot spell . . . A big diesel truck stranded on the highway . . . & on the first lap of Loma Vista, a Berkeley Farms truck stood panting w/its hood up in the middle of the road . . . Somebody moving blew their top & the mattress they were carrying flew from the top of their Falcon Ranchero & came to roost in the middle of the highway . . .

VICKI Broderick walking her hot horse slowly downhill, bringing him to a shady standstill & the neighborhood kiddies scrambling to get him a bucket of water . . . The swim pools, a Sea of Writhing Humanity, a record 806 signing in at Orinda Park Pool.

ONLY MAD Dogs & Englishmen out in the noon day sun . . . & Jean Downs, too (What stamina) she playing 18 holes of golf, a sure tell-tale sign of it, her sunburned arms. Hardly for golfing but she was sporting a pair of wooden-heeled patent sandals. Like "From ROMA" cried out continental gadabout!

Family of the Week

A FAMILIAR favorite figure during Summer League season is Quentin (better known as "Cootie") Thompson, shown here with wife Liz, daughters Carol, 15; Wendy, 13, and Sally, aged 7. Son Peter, a Pine Grover, was off on a Scout camp-out. The former '41 Stanford pitcher coaches the young players, is out on the diamonds many times during the week "looking 'em over" . . . He has the distinction of having played golf with John F. Kennedy just prior to the president's nomination. Cootie is still active as packmaster with Cub Scout Pack 32, although Peter is now a Boy Scout, Troop 247. Liz, long active in Orinda Scout school affairs, teaches Sunday school at Orinda Community Church. The family home on Cascade Lane boasts a big fun and sun deck built by Cootie and the family favors skiing at Squaw, golf, swimming and tennis when they're not "on deck." Currently the former Stanford star is rounding up old school chums for the 20th reunion to be held Big Game eve at a San Francisco hotel.

Del Rey Students Receive Awards; Honor Flag Day

Flag Day had special significance at Del Rey School. Not only was there a traffic patrol parade honoring our country's flag, but all students looked forward to the presentation of special awards.

Marilyn Halpern, one of Mrs. O'Dea's sixth graders, read her composition telling what the flag means to her and why we have Flag Day.

FIVE STUDENTS were chosen by the Parents Club for outstanding creative effort this past year.

Receiving creativity awards were Ann Parody, fifth grade, for a project of growing crystals; Bobby Kerns, third grade, for building an electronic signaling device; Fred Sigworth, fourth grade, for building an electronic mystery light and designing a portable oscilloscope; Holly Huston, first grade, for writing an original play, complete with character and costume descriptions, and Nancy Spear, sixth grade, for an outstanding job of training Guide Dogs for the blind.

TO BE NAMED for an award, a student must embark on a project on his own initiative, outside the normal school requirements. The project must have required significant effort, and it must have embodied some novel or creative approach on the part of the student.

A special award voted by the teachers was given to sixth grader Bill Foley for his outstanding record of voluntary help and service to others. This is not an annual award, but a special award which, the teachers feel, was merited by Bill's conduct.

Mrs. Joseph Longacre, president of the Del Rey Parents Club, paid tribute to H. Z. Nyland, principal, for his efforts to promote patriotism by honoring the flag, not only on June 14, but throughout the year.

Jury Urges Sheriff, D.A. To Work Together

"Although cooperation between our district attorney and sheriff has improved in recent months, this committee urges our district attorney to do all possible to assure that it is continued and strengthened."

This was the recommendation of the Law Enforcement Committee of the Contra Costa County Grand Jury.

The committee added:

". . . Continuous teamwork and cooperation are essential for effective law enforcement. We define 'cooperation' as collective action for mutual benefits or common objectives.

"It is essential that personal aims and ambitions are not directed in a way that destroys or jeopardize cooperation. Cooperation is limited if there is any vestige of resentment, hostility, cliques, jealousy or bickering.

"Willingness to give help and to receive help is fundamental. Proposals must be 'sold' on their merit and be open to free and frank discussion by the principals prior to adoption — or rejection. But once a proposal has been adopted, all principals must work together to assure its success."

CONCERNING the district attorney's office, the committee recommended salary grades of $13,000 to $15,000 per year for superior ability and performance for deputy district attorneys. Retention is currently jeopardized by lack of suitable salaries, the report said.

In this vein, the committee also recommended that the salary of the district attorney be increased to $18,500 per year to provide compensation commensurate with the duties and responsibilities of the office.

The committee commended the district attorney for his uncompromising discharge of his duties and commented that he (John Nejedly) "deserves great credit for insisting that our laws be enforced, and that rights be protested irrespective of public opinion.

"IT IS UNFORTUNATE that such principles are not recognized consistently for their true worth.

"Where such principles represent distinct changes from past practices, it may be wise to increase the emphasis on tact and diplomacy, at the expense of expediency."

The committee came to the conclusion that organized vice and crime is not currently a serious problem in this county and that law enforcement, generally, is improving.

The committee assigned significant credit to the district attorney for these conditions.

Helen Moore digging for dimes to treat her three suntanned sprouts to cokes . . . Bobbie Reiser frantic & frustratedly shopping w/her sons . . . Everybody turning up everyplace in brief shorts, swim suits & lo, the bikinis . . . "This is the only time," said one woman," that I've envied the male . . . He can go around w/his Top Off!"

TRAVEL-WISE . . . Poppy & Les Rowe are packing, that close are they to their departure for Holland, England, Scotland, Belgium & Ireland . . . The Young Set: Sharon Heller off to staff duties at 5th grade Camp . . . Lucky Rowie Loughman who'll do counseling work at Camp Ne-Kon near the Cape in Massachusetts.

WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

Ever wonder how a criminal can be picked up quickly — hundreds of miles from the scene of his crime? The police Teletype network helps make it possible. Set up and maintained by telephone people, the network links hundreds of law enforcement agencies in this and adjoining states.

When a crime is committed, police quickly send a description of the criminal over the network. This way, law enforcement officers are alerted to be on the lookout for the suspect.

Teletype service for police, as well as newspapers, business and the military, is just one of the many kinds of communications telephone people provide for this fast-moving world.

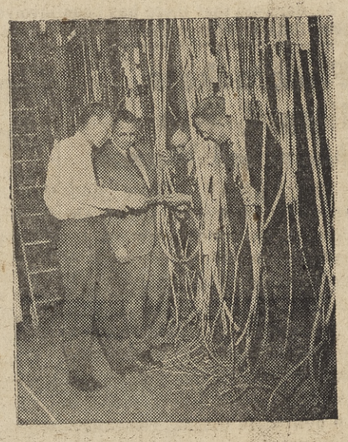
Efficiency experts in a spaghetti factory? No, a team of telephone men inspecting cables in our Lafayette Central Office. Pictured are Charlie Hoff, Bob Graves, Tom Sanguinetti, and Chet Howard; all supervisors in the Contra Costa area.



Western Electric installers will weave a complex electrical pattern with these cables. Your voice may soon go over the very same wires. We are installing new telephone equipment every day to meet the communication needs in this rapidly growing community.

Diane Nobles is typical of the many night telephone operators who stand by, always ready to help with any telephone calls.

Other telephone people—operators, repair men, test crews—also work during the night to make sure your calls go through.

Diane is an important part of the telephone team that works day and night so that telephone service is always ready when you need it. Pacific Telephone

Grand Jury Recommends Citizen's Advisory Group

The Contra Costa County Grand Jury Social Welfare committee has recommended that a Citizens' Advisory Committee be appointed to the Social Service Department.

The committee, according to the social welfare committee report, would present information to the public covering the full social welfare program.

Various groups in the county, such as the Bar Association, Taxpayers' Association, Council of Churches and Welfare Councils would recommend citizens to the County Board of Supervisors, who in turn would select the Citizens' Advisory Committee. The report suggests that all members serve on such a committee.

A RECOMMENDATION that the case management program be accelerated was made by the social welfare committee. The committee suggests that funds be provided by the board of supervisors if necessary, the object of the programming to prevent continuing dependency and disorganization of the family.

Several recommendations pertained to needy children. The committee recommends that payments be made under the ANC if the father is needy, unemployed and living in the home. The recommendation states, "The present forced disintegration of family, with the mother isolated, often has a resulting high incidence of illegitimate births.

Also recommended is a limit on ANC protection for repeated illegitimacy, and additional financial assistance as required to improve the quality of ANC administration.

ADOPTION of a law to provide that persons convicted of a crime involving unlawful receipt of aid forfeits his right to aid for a period of six months after conviction, was also recommended.

The report recommended that the Social Service Department take the lead in studies in marital counselling, and suggested the department work with community welfare councils and other community type programs. It was pointed out that when these problems are brought to the Welfare Department's attention it is often too late for effective action.

The committee commended the district attorney for use of law enforcement machinery to track down men who have deserted their families and children and to discourage repeated additions of illegitimate children to the ANC rolls.

DON V. CLUTE, chiarman said, "We agree that morality cannot be legislated, but we don't have to put a public premium on immorality with loose living and support it with public funds."

Others serving on the social welfare committee are Imogene B. Showers, Marion West, Ed Galli and J. Robert Turner.

Only 2 Burglaries Reported in Week

Only two burglaries were reported to the Lafayette sub station of the county sheriff's office in the past week.

The Valley Pioneer newspaper in Danville reported a burgulary at its office, 114 Prospect Tuesday.

A rear door was forced and a tin cash box taken.

The cash box contained between $15 and $20 in cash and numerous receipts.

William J. Moresi found the cash box at 6 a.m. Tuesday at 189-A Hartz Avenue.

The receipts were still in the box, but the cash was gone.

Officials of the paper said nothing else in the building was touched.

George Longchamps of 236 Jeanne Drive, Pleasant Hill, reported to deputies that someone had entered his home and taken approximately $50 in cash from his wife's purse.

He told deputies that the burglary took place between midnight and 7 a.m. Monday.

Entry was made through an unlocked glass sliding door at the side of the home.

Mrs. Longchamps' purse was sitting on a dining room table.

Deputies were told that nothing else in the house was disturbed.

The $850,000 bond issue of Acalanes Union High School District, Contra Costa County, was bought yesterday by an investment group headed by Wells Fargo Bank American Trust Company.

Foreman Recommends 18 Month Term for Jurors

Douglas Beasely, foreman of the Grand Jury, has recommended that the State Law be amended to fix the term of Grand Juries at 18 months.

The recommendation was made in the Foreman's Report to the presiding judge, Thomas F. Fraga. The report stated: "This change would lessen pressure on the jurors for they could properly budget their time. four months to orient themselves in the work of a grand jury and to carefully organize the committees.

"TEN MONTHS for a thorough check of the many public bodies in the county and the final four months to carefully develop and complete the committee reports. Incidentally, this amendment would save the taxpayers' money, for the audit would be at 18 instead of 12-month intervals."

Beasley also recommended that a constitutional amendment be approved by the voters of the state which would reduce the presently required two-thirds vote for the approval of a general obligation bond issue to a lesser percentage.

He suggested that the boards of supervisors, city councils, school boards, taxpayers' associations and other interested groups take the lead in bringing before the people the related problems of the two-thirds vote and lease purchase.

ELIMINATION of some committees which have been well covered by recent grand juries was suggested in order to allow creation of new committees to cover other phases of government which have had little, if any, attention in the past.

Committees which might be eliminated were listed as education and libraries, public buildings and public works.

Examples of possible new committees are: Special districts, such as East Bay Municipal Utility District and Contra Costa Water District; the Housing Authorities, the courts and the office of the County Assessor.

It was recommended in the foreman's report that one committee have an "open end" so that unforeseen situations could be assigned to it.

Orinda Poodles Have Gay House

Twelve poodles are leading a dog's life in Orinda.

The poodles, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Harry Plath of Orinda, have their own "gingerbread" type cottage painted and wallpapered to specification.

The shake roof of this three-room "dog house" is yellow which shades to green. The doors, human size, are shocking pink. Window boxes are decorated in violet and turquoise hues.

THE ROOMS are 10 feet by 14 feet. One room, for girl poodles, is papered in pink with white poodles. Another room, for the boy poodles, is papered in turquoise with brown poodles.

The third room is for guest dogs.

The house is built the same as the houses in Children's Fairyland in Oakland.

Right now, however, the poodles are reluctant to move into their colorful new home.

Gardiner Acreage Rezoned Half Acre

Sixty three acres of choice residential land in Orinda was recently rezoned from acre to half acre lots by unanimous action of the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors.

The land is owned by Lyle Gardiner of 35 Valley View Road, who purchased the property from Philip Bancroft in 1959. It is adjacent to 18 acres that Gardiner owns in the Miner Orinda district.

ZONING on the 18 acres remains at one acre minimum requirements. Restrictions on the 18 acres expired in July of 1960. When the request to rezone to half acre lots originally came before the County Planning Commission, it was turned down.

Gardiner, who is supervising development of the area, said, "This will be one of the finest developments in the area, the Piedmont of Orinda." Homes that have been built in the area recently and those planned for are well in excess of $50,000 homes.

The Orinda Association, in keeping with its tradition of upholding acre lots as a minimum in Orinda, opposed the rezoning of the Gardiner property.

Valley Art Center June Art, Garden Show Set

Luncheons, cocktail parties and dinners have been inspired by the Valley Art Center's June art and garden show, an annual highlight of the summer social season on this side of the bay. This year's show, "Compositions and Rhythm," will be held Saturday, 3 to 7 p.m., on the shady pool terrace of the Rheem estate.

Show guests will view an exhibition of modern oil paintings and sculpture, accompanied by the contemporary music of a jazz trio and a sparkling champagne punch.

AT A PRE-SHOW gathering Dr. and Mrs. John Ellis of Lafayette will honor two young couples who have recently moved to Walnut Creek with their families.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Urstadt, formerly of Essex, Connecticut, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Woods, who have moved from San Anselmo. Mrs. Woods, daughter of Mrs. Paul Getty, is an expert horsewoman and has brought along her stable of blooded saddle horses.

After the show, the Wendell Stackmans of Orinda, will entertain the Ellises and their guests. Among others present and, no doubt, discussing their forthcoming trips to Europe, will be Mrs. Harold Powell, Lafayette, Valley Art Center president, and the J. Gordon Ainsworths of Orinda. Mrs. Powell leaves for the continent in July; the Ainsworths in September.

For Mrs. Reidulf Westlye, of Lafayette, chairman of the art center's women's board, show day makes a fourteenth wedding anniversary. She and her husband will be hosts at a dinner party at the Alameda Air Station after the exhibition.

THE NATHAN GRAYS of Orinda will interrupt a family cruise of the delta on their boat in order to attend the show. But missed at the show will be loyal art center supporters, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ward. For them, tomorrow is moving day into their beautiful Happy Valley home.

Chairman of the art and garden exhibition is Mrs. J. Richard Funk of Orinda. She has been assisted by Mrs. William Zion, Mrs. Nathan Gray and Mrs. Frank Mansfield, also of Orinda; Mrs. Tom Boothe, Mrs. John Martsolf and Mrs. William Vogt from Lafayette; and Mrs. Joseph Brady of Walnut Creek.

Tickets for the event will be available at the entrance; reservations may be made with Mrs. Vogt, 772 Moraga Road, Lafayette, AT 3-8356. Donations of $3 per couple are requested. A large number of visitors are expected to take advantage of this final opportunity to visit the beautiful Rheem estate before it is closed to the public.

Moraga Minutes

Youngsters Celebrate Year's End with Sunburns

By YVONNE MAUZEY

Summer school started Wednesday after a brief week of vacation. The children will go to school four more weeks until July 18. Summer school classes are from 8:30 to 12:30.

The seventh grade took a trip to Redwood Park for their outing. They partook of a lunch of fried chicken and fixings. They enjoyed a scavenger hunt and water fight which was very refreshing in the heat wave. Some of the students hiked, others just sat and chatted.

THE GIRLS of the class presented Mr. Rogers with a cake they had baked and decorated themselves. On the cake was "Good Luck to Mr. Rogers from His Aviary." He called the girls his aviary because of their ceaseless chattering.

A leather folder was also presented to Mr. Rogers from the entire class, in bidding an affectionate farewell to him. All this was done by the class with no adult participation. Seven cars took the 35 children to the picnic.

AFTER THE graduation exercises Thursday night at Miramonte's cafeteria, the class adjourned to the Rockoff's of Woodford Drive and had a dance and refreshments of cookies and punch. The decorations were of the graduation theme, tiny diplomas. Pat Freitas and Jack Rogers were presented with cuff links from the class.

The next day the eighth grade class had a day at the Rod and Gun Club in Richmond, as guests of the D. Andersons. Barbecued hamburgers, ice cream, pop were served, and the 37 students had a refreshing day of swimming. The weather was certainly made for the festivities.

The sixth grade had a swim party at the Boswells' home on Scofield Drive. The 45 students took a swim in the pool, then went next door to the Salets for a dinner of hamburgers, potato salad, cool-ade and cupcakes.

THE MORAGA Ranch Swim Club had the grand opening of the community pool for the Orchard Dell area Saturday with a terrific turn out of the community, and did you catch a glimpse of the life guard?

Anyone interested in joining while there are a few memberships left call Bob DeJohn or Bud Emory right away. There will be no more pale faces in Orchard Dell. Oy my itching sunburn!

Have you seen the sign on Faye Parker's door? "Before you ask, it's a boy." They are the proud grandparents of Scott Irving De Voe, 7 pounds 2 ounces, born at 6 p.m. June 14.

Faye is down in San Diego visiting the new grandson and her daughter Linn and husband.

WELCOME to our new neighbors Betty and Ross Devlin and their three children (one and a set of twins, all girls), who have moved into a new home on Larch Avenue in Orchard Dell.

I am sorry to hear of the death of John Pagliero, Vic's father, never regained consciousness. Condolences to you.
never regained consciousness. Condolances to you.

Many have asked how Eva Thune is. She is fine now and is vacationing in Washington, visiting her parents.

Hacienda Homes Lot Size Policy Upheld in Court

In a recent decision by Judge Norman Gregg of the Superior Court in and for the County of Contra Costa, a denial by Hacienda Homes of a building permit on a portion of a lot because of its small size was upheld as reasonable.

The applicant, Vernon Lucas, had purchased in 1960 the parcel containing .21 acres, which was a portion of an original subdivision lot, from attorney Nathan Gray, who represented Lucas.

HACIENDA HOMES has the authority by virtue of deed restrictions to approve all building in a number of subdivisions in Orinda, including that in which the subject parcel was located. Pursuant to such authority, Hacienda Homes denied the Lucas application to erect a residence on the subject parcel, because of its small size and location on a sharp bend on Loma Vista Drive.

Lucas then filed an action in the summer of 1960 seeking damages from Hacienda Homes and seeking to have his right to a building permit declared by the court by alleging that the action of Hacienda Homes was arbitary and unreasonable.

In acting upon the Lucas application, Hacienda Homes followed a policy which it adopted and has followed since 1947, namely, that any original subdivision lot shall be presumed to be an adequate building site but any portion thereof shall not be; however, a portion may be deemed to be an adequate building site when consideration is given to other factors such as its topography and its size.

THE BOARD of directors of Hacienda Homes has considered that the size must be at least one-half acre for any portion of an original subdivision lot on which an applicant seeks a building permit.

The area is zoned by the county as one-half acre minimum, but the county granted a building permit to the Lucas parcel since it had been divided prior to the effective date of the county zoning ordinance.

The same parcel had been the subject of prior litigation, in which Nathan Gray of Orinda represented the then owner, which resulted in a decision by the California Supreme Court that Hacienda Homes had the power to deny the building permit if the site was inadequate.

THE DECISION of the Superior Court is significant in that it holds that the action of the board of directors of Hacienda Homes, pursuant to its policy requiring a one-half acre minimum for a divided lot, is reasonable and shall be upheld, regardless of whether or not a county building permit could be obtained.

The directors of Hacienda Homes, which is a subsidiary corporation of Hacienda Improvement Association, participating in the action on the Lucas application, were Oliver Gardner, David Collamer, Henry Zacharias, Sayer Snook Jr., Ted Rimer, A. S. Hartanov and Harry Fledderman. Hacienda Homes was represented in court by Howard Bell of Breed, Robinson and Stewart.

The directors hailed the decision upholding their action in seeking to maintain the territory under their jurisdiction as a high-quality suburban residential area which it has become in recent years.

Orinda Loses T. G. Cullen Family to Carmel Valley

Beloved and respected residents of Orinda for 20 years, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. (Gerry) Cullen and their three children moved last week to Carmel Valley.

"We own property there, and have always wanted to live in the valley and finally made up our minds to move," Cullen said.

The entire family will be missed, but Cullen, who has been active in boy scouting in Orinda for 13 years, will perhaps leave the biggest gap in Orinda Circles.

HOWEVER, he departed on this hopeful note, "I plan to continue as advisor for Orinda Explorer Post 300," he said. "I travel so much in my business that it really doesn't matter too much where we live, and I expect to be around Orinda a good deal."

Cullen, who is Orinda's 1960 Man of the Year, is planning to take the Explorer scouts on a two-week canoeing trip to the lakes of Minnesota and Canada in August. Previous years he has taken the boys to Canada and to the Colorado River.

Cullen, whose headquarters is in Oakland, plans to remain active with scouting, not only with the Post, but with the Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council, of which he is a member of the executive board.

IN ADDITION to his service as Explorer advisor, Cullen was assistant scoutmaster of Orinda Troop 207 for eight years. He was also a national official at state Boy Scout Jamboree and at the national jamboree in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Cullen is also active with scouting, but on the distaff side. She has been a Girl Scout leader for several years. She has also served as secretary of the Orinda Park Pool.

The Cullens' eldest daughter Carolyn, 18, has just completed her freshman year at Monterey Peninsula Junior College and plans to return there in the fall. Denise, 15, just completed her freshman year at Miramonte High School. Denise had hoped to be a pom pon girl for Miramonte in her junior year.

She will be attending Carmel High School and perhaps will realize her ambitions there.

STUDENTS at Sleepy Hollow School will miss Richard Cullen, who would have been in the fourth grade there.

The family is now on a two-week vacation trip to the Hawaiian Islands, "recovering" from their move to Carmel Valley. The trip by plane was no novelty for Cullen, who has flown more than 300,000 miles in connection with his business.

The Cullens home at 26 Las Vegas Road has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Richard McDonald and their four young children, formerly of Concord.

Parachutist to Jump

A sky diving exhibition and helicopter excursion flights will be sponsored Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Rheem Sport Center by Rheem Center merchants.

Gus Knoph, jumper-director, Rheem Sport Center, said admission will be free and there will be plenty of free parking space.

Multi-colored canopies will blossom as jumpers leap from altitudes of 7000 and 8000 feet. There will be two man jumps with the first jumper passing a smoke flare to the second jumper while in free fall at a speed of 140 miles per hour.

ALL PARACHUTISTS are insured and licensed by Parachute Club of America, according to Knoph. Opening minimum altitude for parachutes is 2200 feet and jumpers will atempt to land within a 30-foot circle target.

Police Protection; It's Expensive and Serious

Sheriff Walter Young has asked the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors to increase his budget enough to allow him to hire 46 men to add to his present staff of 166.

Sheriff Young explained his need for more men in a letter which appeared on the editorial page of The Sun May 26. He said that, even though patrol duties are reduced by the incorporation or annexation of unincorporated areas, the civil duties of the sheriff's office continue, as does the need for maintenance of the county jail system.

He noted that as population increases these problems increase accordingly.

WE WOULD LIKE to point out that no matter what the requirements, as men are added to the sheriff's office, your cost in taxes rises.

Last year's grand jury recommended that an outside authority should make a complete study of the sheriff's office so that definite, concrete recommendations could be made on the use of manpower.

This year's grand jury has now made the same recommendation, emphasizing that no real answer to whether or not additional manpower is needed in the sheriff's office can be obtained until such a study is made.

This is nothing new. The Sun has, for many years, been suggesting the same thing.

But, as usual, nothing has been done.

THIS, OF COURSE, is up to the board of supervisors. They can, and should, order such a study immediately. If they chose to ignore the recommendations of last year's grand jury, they can hardly ignore the second recommendation by this year's body.

And if you, as a taxpayer, who must foot the bill for the sheriff's office, feel the same way, you should certainly let your supervisor know, either through a letter to the editor in The Sun, or directly by phone or letter to your supervisor.

THIS IS A SERIOUS matter, because law enforcement can cost each of us plenty of money.

The grand jury also recommended that individuals living in unincorporated areas, and that includes most of us, have only three alternatives for better police protection. They can incorporate, annex to an existing city which has a police department, or they can form a special services district and pay directly for added police protection.

The first two alternatives have other ramifications besides police protection, and the final alternative would be an expensive proposition.

Certainly we have a right to expect a complete report on the sheriff's office before we are forced into any of the alternatives.

This is no idle threat, either. If you will recall Supervisor Mel Nielsen recently suggested that a special police district be formed in the Lafayette-Orinda-Moraga area.

DANVILLE'S EFFORTS to form such a district are still pending.

Incidentally, this also effects those of us who happen to live within the limits of an incorporated city, because we all pay county taxes.

This is obviously an area which needs immediate and thorough study, and only one group can see that this is done—that is the board of supervisors.

It is imperative that they take action immediately, because otherwise, we as taxpayers are likely to feel the results where it hurts the most—in our pocketbooks.

Let's Change the Gov't!

We were interested to note that the Contra Costa County Grand Jury has recommended that the sheriff be appointed to the office instead of elected as in the present case.

This could be an excellent idea, but not under the form of government which we now enjoy.

With a good, strong county manager who would have the power to supervise properly appointed officials the plan would be feasible. As it is now, there is insufficient control.

THE GRAND JURY'S reasoning was interesting and the committee definitely made a point when it considered the influence cast by campaign supporters.

The grand jury's report said: "... The source of campaign funds can obligate a candidate. How will obligations—real or implied—be satisfied? We are uncertain, but we believe the potential of influence on conduct is too great to be ignored."

There is one way in which this dilemma can be settled, however, and that is to change our form of government. We have talked about this many times before, but the board of supervisors has refused to consider it.

The proper change would be to convert to the charter form of government. This is not impractical and there are many residents with practical experience in county government who favor the change.

THE CHANGE to a charter form of government would give us a wonderful tool to use in bringing about just such changes as the grand jury suggests with regard to an appointive sheriff.

We could also consider, then, other appointive offices such as county clerk, assessor, and perhaps even the district attorney.

But this would be effective only if we had a strong county manager with the necessary powers. Certainly he would continue to be responsible to the board of supervisors, but the appointed officer would be responsible to him.

But it would be unwise to consider such appointive offices under our present form of government. We simply don't have enough control.

HOW CAN WE GET a charter form of government, though, when we are blocked? Our own board of supervisors recently rejected even the study of such a move.

This is obviously not wise. How can we reject something which has not even been investigated?

The grand jury has a good point when it asks for an appointive sheriff. But not with the county government we have now.

Obviously, we should study the problem of converting our government. Then perhaps we could consider taking action on the grand jury's recommendations.

We Like It Here...

Summer time & the Living Isn't Always that Easy

It's Summer! We've got cobwebs in the corner, cocoons in the curtains, crickets in the kindling & Daddy-Long-Legs dancing on the ceiling.

WE'VE got sunburn on our noses, silly straw hats on our heads, thongs on our tootsies & calamine on our poison oak . . .

IT'S SUMMER, ALRIGHT! You've got kids in the kitchen, guests on the doorstep, a mess in the family room . . . & MORE kids marching through the house.

You KNOW it's Summer . . . There's mildew in the ironing basket, more mildew on the zinnias, rust on the roses, aphids in the mint leaves & bugs beating at the back door.

There's a Wasp Nest under the garage roof & gopher holes in the garden.

There's crisp cantaloupe for breakfast, bunches of lime-green grapes in the fruit basket, rosey plums for the picking & golden peaches on the shortcake.

YOU'VE got jam in the cupboard, popsicles freezing in the freezer, Koolaid spilled on the counter & rootbeer floats coming up for a late evening treat.

HOW DO YOU know it's Summer? There's crisp cucumbers in the salad bowl, shish-kebab on the skewers, charcoal in the brazier & yellowjackets all around the outdoor dining table!

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN! The towels are dripping, the bluejeans are ripping!

The sparrows are building nests on the porch, the spiders are spinning lacey webs across the terrace, the bluejays are begging, the hummingbirds are darting . . . & somebody's stray pooch turns up for a hamburger hand-out!

IT'S SUMMER & WHERE does the time go? We've got bills that HAVE to be paid, books overdue at the library, letters long waiting an answer & magazines unopened & unread.

The Japanese lanterns are lit, the hi-fi is stacked, the pillows plumped up on the chaise . . . & the insect-repellent burning away.

WE'VE GOT kittens in the closet, mice in the cellar, snails in the seedlings, moths in the rugs, butterflies under glass . . . & lizards in a jar.

We take our iced-tea tinkling in a tall frosted glass . . . & pour the pink lemonade from a pretty white pitcher.

WE'VE MADE lazy-daisy chains, flowered leis . . . & a front-door wreath of ferns just for the season's fun of it!

We've dusted off the tent, tested the old camp stove, cleaned the Kerosene lamp & studied all the State Park folders.

YOU CAN TELL IT'S SUMMER! The bats & balls, the jump-ropes & tennis rackets are underfoot . . . & the house is a veritable obstacle course of cap pistols, swim fins, snorkles, spread-out stamp collections, coin collections . . . & open books.

THE HAMMOCK IS UP . . . & there's always somebody in it! Ditto the parasol . . . & there's always somebody UNDER it!

The sleeping bags are bundled up in the tree house & the peanut butter brigade is a perpetual parade to the kitchen . . . & the bathroom!

We're feeding the begonias, staking the stock, spraying the bushes . . . & cultivating our new neighbors.

WE CAN PLAY solitaire . . . or a game of Scrabble. Pick up the ping pong paddle. Gab at the pool—or sit home in the sun.

WE'VE GOT DRIP-Drys . . . & walking shorts. Swim Team tryouts & baseball reports!

The Welcome Mat is Out . . . but we'll soon be all IN! For it's Summer

With bees in our bonnet, bats in our belfry . . . & kids coming out of our ears, we wish a happy vacation to you all! It's finally SUMMER!

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE BALL—School's out for more than 3 million California school children, and "behind every ball there's a child." Such vacation time activities often bring children into the paths of automobiles unexpectedly, and with the regular adult crossing guards gone, drivers must be particularly alert for the youngsters.

The Staff Corner

A New Society...

By DICK OSBORN

Man, how do you beat the heat?

That comment, or a paraphrase of it, was probably the most common bit of conversation to be heard in the parts for the past couple of weeks.

And the heat brings about some interesting, if not very astute, observations.

Have you noticed, for instance, that there is one type of individual who just blossoms out as the temperature climbs?

While some of us weaker individuals are slowly melting away in a puddle of perspiration (note: order deodorant) these people trot about the streets absolutely beaming.

THEY ALWAYS DRESS for the occasion . . . young girls, usually, in light summer wear (local ordinances permitting) or young men in shorts and light shirts. I envy them. Summer is definitely for the younger set.

But then you run into the business man. Some men, and it beats me how they do it, can walk into your office at 3 p.m. on the hottest day of the year looking as if they had just stepped out of a shower and put on crisp, clean clothes. Neatly pressed suits and jackets with the crease still there . . . no wilted collars . . . it's amazing!

Makes one suspect that they drive around in air conditioned cars and get out only under the press of the direct emergency.

Went home the other evening to find my neighbor sprinkling the roof of his house . . . he said it was about 130 degrees inside, and I believe him, because mine was all of that.

OF COURSE, there are those people who have swimming pools, but we won't even mention them (mental picture of green-eyed jealousy here over typewriter) because they are out of this world. They LOVE the heat.

But how about the rest of us . . . we normal people who suffer mildly when the temperature climbs into the hundreds?

Is there nothing we can do but wilt in our offices and homes, drink iced tea or Coke in the afternoon to help things along, and just suffer in silence?

Perhaps we ought to form a league . . . sort of weather-wise John Birch Society.

We could probably get away with it until somebody found out and labeled us subversive.

But it might be worth it.

Letters to The Editor

RE-ASSESSMENT
Dear Editor:

Several weeks have now elapsed since the property owners of Orinda received notification of the equalization program resulting in substantial increases in assessed values.

Along with this announcement, we were asked to please understand that the purpose of the letter was merely to provide information, as it did not necessarily indicate an increase in assessment.

OBVIOUSLY our county assessor and his staff are under the impression we are all "naive dupes" to swallow such a line of misstatement.

Perhaps the rate of assessment will not be increased, however, we all know the wording does not change the end result, an excessive raise in taxes.

At this stage, any increase should be considered excessive as the gouging of the property owners had already reached the breaking point.

SUBSEQUENT to this unjust and unequal assessment, I have listened to many of our irate and outraged property owners and read various letters and articles appearing in your newspaper.

With few exceptions, I feel reasonably sure that our county administrators and assessors have misjudged us; we are not "naive or dupes," but a community of "spineless individuals" with no will to resist the big spending philosophy of our benefactors, a philosophy that already has the future generations mortgaged to the hilt.

IN ALMOST every instance, the outraged home owner rose in his wrath, bowed his neck, vented his invectives at the purveyors of this injustice and piracy—then inquired, what can we do? With this prevailing attitude, the answer is simple, nothing.

I do not advocate the elimination of taxes—as we all know and realize they are necessary, but there has to be a stopping point somewhere, unless we all desire to become wards of the state; we do the work, give our income to our administrators, who in turn will take care of us—in addition to providing a comfortable and luxurious life for the parasites who have made a travesty of relief and welfare.

I HAVE always been under the impression that the ultimate goal of the American working man was home ownership and the salvaging of enough income to enjoy a few luxuries and provide a decent education for his children.

How can this be attained with the ever increasing tax bite on salaries or wages that have not increased proportionately? Another very simple answer, it cannot for the average property owner in Orinda.

I WILL agree that Orinda is a desirable community in which to live, but not at the point of being taxed out of existence, and let's not be lulled to sleep — this is only the beginning, there will be other schemes to relieve us of our income, under the pretext and guise of equalization.

Our benevolent county spenders undoubtedly feel each Orinda property has a spring that gushes money on demand, or perhaps the numerous woody plants are money trees. Our overseers in Martinez, however, neglected to point out this resource when they were judiciously and expertly appraising the properties.

ONE INDIVIDUAL or group of individuals, to be certain, can do nothing about this problem, nor can the Orinda Association. Only by the uniting of every Orinda property owner, can this gouging be halted and taxation be reduced to a just and equitable level.

Barnum's often repeated quotation "never give a sucker an even break" is most apropos, for we can be sure our county government will never turn off the siphon as long as we have two nickels to rub together. The only help we'll ever get is by acquiring a little backbone and turning the faucet ourselves.

FOSTER HOMES
Dear Editor:

In the June 2 edition of the Sun appeared an editorial about the need for foster homes for children in this county. This thoughtful editorial and the numerous articles which your paper has published this past year about foster children have been a special aid to the Council of Churches, Social Service and Probation Departments in our attempt to interest and inform the citizens of our county about this vital need.

Much of the success of our public information meetings has been due to the consistent attention given them by your paper.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Culver Williams, Jr.
Mrs. Henry Rae,
Mrs. Robert Love.

Visit Bali-Hai with Me? No, Just a Few Fast Notes

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Papeete, Tahiti — Eleanor is in the "little grass shack" washing her hair.

(The "shack" is a suite made of handsome bamboo, pandamus roof, native woods and decorations; 2½ rooms at the Tahiti Hotel; $21 a day.)

I am watching a breathtaking sunset over Bali-Ha'i—which is really gorgeous Moorea Island, 12 miles the other side of Tahiti's reef.

Andy, an Australian, breaks the silence, "What are you going to write about?"

Well, said I, I could write how inconceivable is the beauty of Cook's Bay in Moorea, with its coconut-lined shores and great jagged volcanic peaks in the background.

Fish, roast pig and stuff

Or I could try to describe the delicious Tamaaraa, native feast, at the Aimeo Hotel on Moorea. (See Tahiti Tours.) The food is much better than a Hawaiian Luau.

Or I could attempt to describe the fabulous Tahitian native singing and dancing at the local village. Thirty dancers in the Bora Bora hula skirts, both men and women, danced the thrilling stories of history, religion, life.

BONJOUR, YOU ALL. Here is a happy trio of Tahitians I shot on the ship going to the beautiful island of Moorea, 12 miles from Tahiti. The vahini is Sun Associate Publisher Eleanor Silverman and the tanes come from Australia.

And afterward, five of the boys and one lovely girl accompanied us to our hotel. Instead of leaving us as they usually do, they sat on the lawn for two hours. Some Frenchmen, an Australian, Eleanor and I joined them in the most wonderful singing and dancing. When they left, they shook hands and kissed us on both cheeks. There was no fee, no tipping, nothing was expected. They thanked us profusely for the beer we bought.

I forgot the tipping? The Tahitian does not expect or want a tip. The government and hotels emphasize no tipping—and it is not done. But the service is better than in the U.S.

How to get there?

I asked Barry Lau Rieu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lau Rieu of Walnut Creek, how he liked his flight on South Pacific Air Lines from Honolulu to Papeete. (Incidentally, I ran into the Cliffords from Orinda, making their annual Matson dance-teaching tour on the Mariposa.)

"It was marvelous," answered Barry, who went to Acalanes. "I have never seen such warmth, such sincere service or so many goodies on a flight. These SPAL people absolutely knock themselves out to make your flight pleasant."

Did you know that SPAL was founded by J. Stanley Dollar (and his associates) of Walnut Creek?

You know how often the Dollars offer their Dollar Ranch in Tice Valley for community functions.

SPAL offers an amazing story. It is the only American air line to serve Tahiti. A French line, TAI, is now flying jets directly from L.A. to Tahiti.

But the U.S. Government has rejected SPAL's application for a direct flight from the mainland. This is absurd. Certainly a U.S. line should at least have equal rights with a foreign carrier. But equally important—untold numbers of dollars are pouring out of the U.S. into the French line, because some Americans are flying from L.A. to Tahiti on TAI.

County was represented

But flying with SPAL from Honolulu to Tahiti were six delightful Bay Area couples, including Mr. and Mrs. Pat Thomas of Alamo, Mr. and Mrs. Ray O'Flyng of Orinda and the Lau Rieus, formerly of Walnut Creek.

Small world dept.: The Thomas' and O'Flyngs have an office on the same block as The Sun plant—and we first met in Tahiti.

I could write thousands more words describing Tahiti—but you've read it in Time, Holiday, etc.

Eleanor and I loved the trip and, if you are planning to go, give us a call.

And as they say in this wondrous Tahitian and French-speaking country, "Iorana."

Development Association Elects 1961-62 Officers

The 25-year history of the Contra Costa County Development Association was reviewed Friday night as more than 200 attended the installation of 1961-62 officers at a dinner party at Paul's.

James Mussatti, general manager of the California State Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the future of California and Contra Costa County and credited a substantial share of this county's gains during the past quarter century to the association's promotional activities.

He was introduced by attorney Frank Bray, Jr., of Martinez, who also installed the new officers.

John B. Towne, Martinez banker, was seated as president; Arthur C. Latno, Jr., as treasurer and Iona M. Booth as corporate secretary.

Also installed were seven vice-presidents, Jack O. Fries, Henley Worthington, L. T. Schreiber, Walter T. Jameson, Carl W. Rehfuss, James M. Gill and Walter E. Karnes, and 21 directors.

Appellate Court Justice A. F. Bray, the association's second president from 1938 to 1940, introduced 11 past presidents who were present and recited accomplishments of the organization during their terms of office.

Included were Walter T. Helms, E. J. Farina, R. B. Claxton, W. B. Kelley, Leigh H. Smith, Dudley J. Sutherland, V. A. Fink, George Bowersox, A. F. Bray, Jr., E. M. Larmer and Aubrey Macomber.

New Jr. Leaguers Inspect New Office; Hear Report

By MARIE MONAHAN

AN INSPECTION TOUR of the new Oakland Junior League office in the Hotel Claremont was conducted for a record turn-out of members and guests attending last week's Annual Report Luncheon usually held in the fall.

Because of past poor performances on the part of the weatherman, the traditional Play Day (where provisionals are pampered and introduced) and the Annual Report Luncheon (when the year's accomplishments are summed up) were switched on the calendar to beat the elements. But wouldn't you know it was hot Tuesday, the day that ushered in the famous heat wave, and the leaguers, fit to be fried even in cool cottons and summerweight suits, wished they had trusted the elements. It would have been an ideal way to survive the soaring temperature languishing poolside on the lawn at the Monroe Greenwoods' Moraga estate as is the usual procedure for June.

THE EMPIRE ROOM filled to capacity for pre-lunch chattering and thirst-quenching libations . . . The dais, where sat the officers, was decked with Dumbo elephant cut-outs denoting an Under the Big Top theme, the circus theme serving to introduce the year's officers in the current issue of Viewpoint, the smart little league magazine edited by Mrs. Barbara (Mrs. Heber) Smith of Orinda.

Pastel balloons and red satin ribbons on the gay luncheon tables . . . Patsy Ruth (Mrs. Gordon) French hunting friends . . . A red rose on Marian (Mrs. Jack) Eyman's white straw cloche . . . A green coolie straw worn by Cynthia Stampley of Orinda, exactly matching her shantung suit, shoes and bag . . . She just home from Greenbriar.

CONTRA COSTA's country living attracting even more leaguers with pretty Betty Richards, mother of five boys, currently househunting the area.

Hatless countryside leaguers holding a roundtable confab over their crisp salads were Jackie O'Connor, Sue Beckett, Sis Larkin and Carolyn Havre, all of Orinda . . . They were joined by Pat Everett, Marilyn Eichelberger, Mary Nunan, all of Lafayette . . . Lafayette's Mardie Robinson in apple green . . . flame orange flowers on Orindan Nancy Mouser's white hat, more of the bright blooms embroidered on her white linen sheath . . .

CAROL GIBSON of Orinda (she'll do country-side publicity) sporting a huge plastic daisy on the lapel of her dark silk suit . . . Betsy Vail in shocking pink . . . Geraniums appliqued on the sweater-dress ensemble worn by Betty Hall who with her husband George and children, left last weekend for a vacation in the Islands.

Yellow carnation corsages worn by the new provisionals who were introduced . . . President Del Loper delivering a lengthy but easy-to-listen-to report in a soft-voiced eloquent manner. Very impressive!

PROVISIONAL Jean (Mrs. Robert) Livermore of San Ramon sharing a table with provisional Shirley (Mrs. George) Hager of Orinda . . . Also here, Ann (Mrs. Richard) Graffis, Barbara (Mrs. Heber) Smith, both of Orinda and Gail (Mrs. Thomas) Lowry of Danville. A glimpse of Jeanette Howard, Sally Peterson.

FRIENDS INQUIRING of Joan (Mrs. Blake) Calder about her new infant son . . . Barbara (Mrs. Edwin) Flinn, an animated group . . . Margaret Gompertz, wearing a grey tailleur, at a table with sustaining members . . . A handsome white knit on Barbara Snook of Lafayette and Orinda's Nancy Longacre shouldering a mink--collared cardigan over a beige linen frock.

A WAVE of gay giggles greeting president Del Loper's presentation of a mammoth supply of tea bags to new president Patty (Mrs. William) Channell of Lafayette. The new president's fetching hat featured a white full-winged butterfly perched mid-forehead . . . Compliments for Louise (Mrs. Johnson) Clark of Lafayette on her article in Viewpoint concerning the family canoe excursion down the Russian River.

At luncheon's end, a trip of the stairs to the attractive and femininely-furnished new quarters of the league . . . Here, white iron and bamboo furnishings, bouquets of lush flowers on low tables, floral-spray drapes in hyacinth blue and a dreamy blue carpeting are to inspire the league to do even greater things . . . if such is possible!

Richard Spight Is Married to Mary Colores

From Santa Barbara comes the announcement from Mr. and Mrs. James Colores, of the marriage of their daughter, Mary, to Richard Dobbs Spight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey H. Spight of 135 Camino Pablo, Orinda.

The ceremony was performed in the Greek Orthodox church in Santa Barbara before members of the two families, and was followed by a large reception at the Women's Club.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. James Spight, brother and sister-in-law of the groom; Peter Koutsos and Miss Nancy Marsh of Portland, Oregon, cousin of the groom, as flower girl. The bride is a graduate of the University of California. The groom attended Acalanes High School and was graduated from Oregon State University.

Summer Parties For Winter Debs

There's no summer vacation from parties for the local buds who'll bow at the 1961 Winter Ball in December.

Last Monday, Mrs. Robert E. King honored deb Karen Kessler at a luncheon at the King house in Alamo. On Tuesday a luncheon for Barbara Sawyer, daughter of the Edgar F. Sawyers of Happy Valley, and for Laury Mainwaring and Barbara Griffin, both of Piedmont, was given by Mrs. Paul Samson and Mrs. David Dugan at the Samson residence in Lafayette.

Yesterday, the T. H. Sutton residence was the setting for a dancing, swimming and dinner party feting Suzette Abbot, daughter of the junior Samuel Abbots of Diablo and Karen Kessler, daughter of the Donald N. Kesslers of Piedmont.

The calendar is filling up fast and later dates include one August 3, for Barbara Sawyer. It will be a luncheon and swimming party hostessed by the Mesdames Peter Ponting and Victor Walberg at the Lafayette home of Mrs. Ponting.

Mrs. Edgar Sawyer will give a tea August 8 to honor her budding Barbara and August 27 is already earmarked for the Beach Club luncheon at Pebble Beach that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fee will toss as a pre-debut treat for Susan Krusi.

Merchants, PH 'Stay Alive' in NBC

WC Pounds Out 13-7 Win; PH Just Takes It Easy

The Walnut Creek Merchants and Pleasant Hill both advanced to the final round of the National Baseball Congress Divisional Tournament with wins Sunday.

This Sunday both teams will have to come up with two wins in order to qualify for the State NBC tournament at San Rafael starting June 30. The two teams each have two wins and one loss in the double elimination tournament to date.

Their opponents Sunday are both undefeated. A loss in the first game would eliminate the local teams.

The first game at Civic Field in Walnut Creek gets underway at 12:30 p.m. If Walnut Creek wins the first one, a second game will be played immediately following the opener.

The same situation will prevail at Diablo Valley College field. The first game starts at 12:30 p.m. and a second game, if necessary, immediately afterwards.

Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill will both be facing teams that defeated them soundly two weeks ago.

Pleasant Hill goes against the San Francisco Longshoremen, 8-2 winners in their first meeting two Sundays ago.

The divisional champions will move on the state tourney which will feature 26 teams from throughout California.

The month-long tourney will decide a California state champion and the team that will represent the state in the National NBC Tournament at Wichita in August.

The state champion collects $1000 and the national winner takes home $10,000.

At Walnut Creek Sunday in Group 5 of the Divisional Tournament, the Merchants spotted Jackson-Goldie an early 5-0 lead then came back for a 13-7 victory in a free-swinging game that featured four home runs.

Pleasant Hill posted its second win in the tournament the easy way in Group 4 at Diablo Valley College.

The Mill Valley Merchants were forfeited out of the tourney after team officials decided to play a game previously scheduled for the same day.

PLEASANT HILL had defeated the Mill Valley team in the tourney opener three weeks ago, 7-5.

Jackson-Goldie ran up a 4-0 lead in the first inning as a leaky Merchant defense committed four errors. The Merchants committed seven errors in the game.

Jackson-Goldie added another in the third inning for a 5-0 lead.

After that lefty Mike Kritscher shut the door except for a pair of solo homeruns in the seventh and eighth innings.

He went the full nine innings, giving up 10 hits and striking out 11.

Walnut Creek manager Joe McElroy got the Merchants' first hit in the fourth inning off starter Bob Rogers who was coasting along with a comfortable five five-run bulge at the time.

Before Rogers could retire the side the Merchants had scored three runs and were back in the game.

McELROY scored the first run when catcher Jim Maggart walked with the bases loaded.

First baseman George Colburn followed with a single to center field to drive home the two other Merchant runs.

McElroy, who had a perfect day at the plate, hit a long homerun to right field to start the Merchants' fifth and make the score 5-4.

In the sixth it was McElroy's single that scored Kritscher with the tying run.

Ace Gentry's homerun in the seventh put Jackson-Goldie ahead again, 6-5, but a five-run outburst in the same inning by the Merchants in the same inning put the locals on top for the first time in the game.

After Maggart's single tied the game at 6-6, center fielder Roger Cowell lofted a three-run homer over the right fielder's head to put the Merchants out in front.

In the bottom of the eighth the Merchants added three more runs on a pair of errors and a triple by Colburn.

The Merchants collected 12 hits in the game, three by McElroy. He also scored three runs and drove in two.

Third baseman Jim Frank had two hits and scored three runs.

Cowell and Colburn both had two hits and three RBI's.

Maggart also drove in three runs on a bases loaded walk, single and fielder's choice.

Local Teams to Play in NBC State Tourney

The Walnut Creek Merchants and Pleasant Hill will be playing in the National Baseball Congress State Tournament in San Rafael even if they are eliminated from their respective divisional tournaments this week.

S. L. (Brick) Swegle, state commissioner of the NBC, made the announcement this week.

July 1 at 8 p.m. against the Ongara Plumbers of San Anselmo.

Walnut Creek's first game is

All 26 teams in the month-long state tournament have already been picked.

The 10 finalists in the five-group tournaments in the East Bay will all be playing in the state tourney, according to Swegle.

The state tourney has been divided in two halfs with with 10 teams playing in the first half and 16 teams in the second half.

The two winners in the double elimination tourney will meet in a best two out of three championship series to decide California's representative in the National NBC Tournament, which begins in Wichita August 23.

The winner of the state tourney receives $1000 while the national champion collects $10,000. The Merchants will be playing in the first half of the state tourney while Pleasant Hill is in the second half.

Strand Is Lone Walnut Hills Swim Winner

Bob Strand of the Walnut Hills Swim Club won the 100-yard backstroke event at the 10th Annual Santa Clara Valley Swimming and Diving Meet last weekend. He was the only club member to take a first.

His time for the 15-16-year-old event was 59.5.

Strand also placed in two other events.

He finished second in the 200 individual medley. His time was 2:12.2.

In the 200-yard breaststroke, Strand finished third with a time of 1:21.8.

Jim Hunter picked up a third for the club and Tom Fitzsimmons finished fifth in one event and sixth in another.

Both boys competed in the 11-12-year-old category.

The meet was sponsored by the Santa Clara Parks and Recreation Department and the Santa Clara Swim Club.

The event was sanctioned by the Pacific Association of the AAU.

'Old' 49ers Beat 'Young' Raiders In Bowling Match

The latest bit of non-football competition between the Oakland Raiders and the San Francisco 49ers was won by the 49ers.

Members of the two local professional football teams met at the Rheem Bowl last Saturday for a one-day "tournament."

The Raiders of the brand new American Football League won the first game and appeared to be off and running to a big victory, but the 49ers of the long-established National Football League, bounced back to win the next two games and the match.

The 49er comeback was paced by Y. A. Tittle, the San Franciscans' old pro.

The bald quarterback, who carries a 110 average, fired games of 160 and 189 to help "demoralize" the Raiders.

Members of the two teams now have faced each other on the basketball court, the roller rink and the bowling alley.

There are very few people who think they will be meeting in the sport they play best, in the near future, however.

Members Buy Diablo Club

The purchase of a Diablo Country Club by its members was revealed last week.

A spokesman for Diablo Country Club Inc. said the members had purchased the golf course and buildings from Eastbay restrauteur Laurence Curtola and his wife.

The purchase came to light when the club's deed was filed in the Contra Costa County recorder's office.

Curtola bought the club and 500 acres of land in 1948 for $500,000.

The purchase price by the member group was $440,000.

However, since Curtola bought the land, portions of it have been subdivided for residential development.

The club is located between Danville and Mt. Diablo.

How much of the land had been sold before the members purchased it was not revealed.

When Curtola bought the course it included a 36-room chalet, a nine-room residence, stables, a swimming pool and other buildings.

Teen Scores Ace

Fourteen-year-old Gary Nickolisen scored a hole-in-one last week at Walnut Hills Country Club.

The youngster made his ace on the 143-yard fifth hole.

Concord Outslugs Sports & Games

The long ball was featured last Sunday morning at Civic Field, as the undefeated Concord American Legion team took the measure of the Sports & Games team of Walnut Creek, 11 to 9.

This Sunday at 10 a.m. at Civic Field, Sports & Games takes on the Giant Rookies, a team that has defeated some of the toughest semi-pro outfits in the Bay area.

Trailing 7-0 after four innings, the Sports & Games team rallied, but after closing the gap to two runs, just couldn't catch the Concord nine.

Concord featured the hitting of their prime pro prospect, Marty Piscovich.

Piscovich gave ample proof why he is so highly regarded by the play for pay group, as he banged out two homers, a double and a bunt single.

His hitting proved to be the difference as the local nine came on with some power of their own.

Roger Guichard, Bob Morris and Tom Strain each hit for the circuit, while Bob Muller banged out a triple.

The loss, the second in a row, could be attributed more to faulty defensive play by the Sports & Games aggregation.

After two easy practice wins, the team hasn't played anywhere near its potential. These youngsters have considerably more talent than they have displayed thus far.

However, they have been kicking the ball around with amazing consistency. Not only the tough play, but the easy pop-up, the routing ground ball. Those who have followed the play of most of those on the roster know it shouldn't be long before they start playing the caliber of baseball they are capable of.

Nothing Good to Report From Fishing Scene Yet

By LARRY JACKSON

Plenty of hot weather, but fishing still on the slow side.

The winds on Saturday and Sunday held the boaters down and most of the addicts who went up Lake Berryessa way encountered the same wind that cut fishing that had been really "hot" during the week.

White's Fishing Resort had fine crowds during the warm weather, but the fish cooperation was on the slow side.

Quite a few small "keepers" were bagged and some nice flounder, but the sport was far from best. Anchovies are now working off shore at Benicia and the trollers have been taking some eight-pounders.

Boss man at White's—Del Hering—has work going full blast on the pier. The new set-up will extend the pier 60 feet directly into good fishing current. Fishermen will have an added fishing area with plenty of room for larger crowds. All boats are getting a working over and new paint job as the resort takes on the new look for summer.

Dowrellio's had a fine pick-up in anglers during the warm spell. Trolling was the best for fish up to 12 pounds. Several nice limits taken on the P.M. boats during the hot spell. Most of the trolling has taken place along the Benicia shore line in the anchovie schools.

With a change in tides this week and more good weather the "fish count" should increase—we hope.

Slow was the report out of McAvoy's the past week. Nice weather except for the weekend and plenty of the sportsters out, but again not too much fish encouragement. Wayne Sawdon showed with the top fish going eight pounds and taken trolling in the Suisun cutoff.

We feel for George Pazza, one of the avid sturgeon sports. He tangled with three sturgeon during the week, but didn't boat a fish—one came unbuttoned early—another snapped a heavy mono leader along side the boat—the third wrecked tackle and never showed color.

Leave it to George—he'll be back for more.

Quite a bit of excitement at the landing Thursday and Friday with a stubborn grass fire threatening the landing. The fire started at Harris Harbor and headed toward McAvoy's. All hands turned out and finally got the blaze under control with minor damage and no boat loss.

Hal Wildes reports that the fire slowed the work in the shore road, but is again in full swing and should be ready for the anglers shortly.

Many of the localities stayed home over the weekend getting back to normal after the heat.

Bill Ogden—Lafayette—took a run up the Feather River country with only fair results. Bill states that low water and poor fly hatches kept the fishing down. You had to work hard for what you got and those on the small side.

We had a "bang-up" dinner and meeting at the W.C. Sportsmen's Club on the 13th. The nominated officers were reviewed and all hands are getting set for the election on Tuesday. The gang has a fine group of fellows on the slate and all sections of the officers and directors—they should come up with outstanding officials. The meeting closed with a Remington-Peters film of a Florida Bobwhite and Turkey shoot from horseback with some fine Pointers strutting their stuff. Very well done and the crowd got a "boot" out of it.

From all reports we have been able to get out of Sacto, Bill AB 1887 did not come up in the Senate—it did pass the house, but was not signed. Thanks fellows and clubs for your good work on stopping this bill. Guess it was just too "hot" for Mr. Unruh to handle. Very few changes were passed in the F&G category and nothing that will do any harm and several that should do some good.

For those who would like to know, here are the latest catchable trout plants made this past week by the EFF N' GEE boys:

Lake County—Anderson, Kelsey, St. Helena creeks, Upper Blue Lake.

Marin County—Rodeo Lagoon, Bon Tempe, Lagunitas, Phoenix Lakes.

Monterey County—Big Sur River, Los Padres Reservoir.

San Luis Obispo County—Chorro Res. . . . San Simeon Lagoon.

San Mateo County—Higging Creek Reservoir.

Santa Cruz County—Fall Creek, San Lorenzo River.

Orinda Wins 2nd; Takes Lead Over Babe Ruth Rivals

After two weeks of play in the Diablo Valley Babe Ruth League, Orinda has moved into undisputed possession of the top spot with a 2-0 record.

Pacheco was Orinda's second victim, 7-3, last week.

Danville edged Pinoole, 7-6, and Lafayette defeated Martinez, 6-1.

Danville, Pinole, Lafayette and Martinez all are 1-1 in league play now.

Orinda pitcher Pete Boyle gave up five hits while striking out nine and walking only two.

Losing pitcher Mickey Thomas gave up only six hits and struck out 12.

Martinez outhit Lafayette, 6-4, but didn't get them in the right spots as they managed to score only once.

BOB STRAIN was the winning pitcher in the game while Dave Minjack took the loss.

Danville upended Pinole with a last-inning rally after being behind 6-4 early in the game.

Diminutive Steve Cryer led the winner's eight-hit attack with three safeties, one a three-bagger.

Mickey Taylor got the win. He relieved Jeff Early in the third inning and shut out Pinole the rest of the game.

Mrs. Hansen Is Tilden Winner

Mrs. Joseph Cavallero finished third in Class A of the Tilden Park Women's Golf Club when she shot at 47-9½-37½.

She finished ½ stroke behind Mrs. A. L. Markolf and Mrs. J. C. Guffy who tied for first place.

In Class B, Mrs. E. H. Hansen of Lafayette took honors with a nine-hole score of 49-13½-35½.

WC, Orinda Are Defeated In Weekend Legion Play

Walnut Creek's American Legion team absorbed two losses last week-end to drop into fifth place in the nine-team circuit with a 2-4 record.

Martinez and Concord are currently tied for first place with 5-0 records.

Walnut Creek dropped a 13-6 decision to Rodeo and Saturday at Civic Field then were shut out by undefeated Martinez, 4-0, Sunday at Las Lomas.

Orinda dropped its fourth game in five starts to El Sobrante, 16-12, at Miramonte Sunday.

Orinda currently is tied with El Cerrito for last place.

Saturday, Walnut Creek takes on Orinda at Miramonte.

Sunday, Walnut Creek plays El Sobrante at Las Lomas.

Henry Barlettani of Martinez shut the door on Walnut Creek by scattering seven hits. He struck out five and walked two in the game.

Bill Howerton, Nick Lujan and Sam Thomas each had two hits for Walnut Creek. Mickey Sytkowski had the other safety.

THOMAS also pitched a seven hitter, but Martinez bunched three of them for a single run in the second inning and then added three more tallies in the sixth frame on one hit, two walks, an error, a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly.

Rodeo took an 11-0 lead over Walnut Creek with the first two hitters in the game slamming home runs over the left field fence.

Walnut Creek finally scored in the sixth inning.

Jack Baldassari had three hits for Walnut Creek while Terry Henson and Dennis Wallen each had two.

Walnut Creek scored four times in the ninth inning, but it was a case of too little and much too late.

Wallen tripled and Baldassari doubled in the ninth inning. A single by Al Oxley, Bill Howerton and Henson also figured in the late outburst.

EL SOBRANTE cracked out 17 hits while subduing Orinda. Lloyd Christopher, the second and winning pitcher for the visitors, had four hits.

Orinda was ahead, 8-5, after five innings but an eight-run uprising in the sixth finishhed the local team.

John Paul Jones had a two-run homer for Orinda while Randy Thaman had three of the losers' eight hits.

Local Residents Receive Social Services Degree

Social welfare workers from throughout California will be awarded certificates in the social services at ceremonies to be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the University of California Alumni House.

The certificates are awarded by the U.S. School of Social Welfare and University Extension for successful completion of four courses offered over a two-year period and culminating with a residence seminar on the California campus.

Three local residents will be receiving certificates tomorrow.

The certificates will be presented by Milton Chernin, dean of the School of Social Welfare.

Principal speaker will be Morton Gordon, associate director of U.C. Extension.

The extension certificate program aims to help both employed and volunteer social workers to understand the relationships between basic human needs and the means for their satisfaction; to help social service people develop the necessary skills for helping individuals and groups to cope with their personal-social problems; and to teach social workers the essentials of social planning and coordination.

Miss Elizabeth Jean Manning of 848 Solana Drive, Lafayette, will receive a certificate tomorrow. She is with the Contra Costa County Social Service Department.

Also receiving certificates are two Walnut Creek residents, Mrs. Marion Agard O'Bryan of 1334 Walden Road and Edward C. Woodward of 110 Twin Peaks Drive.

Mrs. O'Bryan is with the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Woodward is with the Contra Costa County Probation Department.

A total of 82 certificates will be awarded to participants from all over Northern California. In all, 276 students have completed the program. Thirteen East Bay residents will receive certificates.

Anyone who has the qualifications as indicated by his assignment in a social service agency or organization is eligible to enroll in the certificate program.

New classes begin the week of September 18 in Berkeley, Lafayette, Martinez and other East Bay communities.

Measles Rate Here Is Highest In Bay Area

The greatest Bay Area increase in measles is in Contra Costa County, according to Dr. Glen Kent, assistant county health officer.

The ratio here is 10 to 1 over last year, said Kent.

There have been 1,136 cases as of the first of May. In 1960 there were 118 cases for a similar period.

HEALTH officers of the Alameda, San Francisco and Contra Costa counties say the caseload isn't unusual. This is just a measles year, they say.

The Bay Area has had 8,600 cases during the first five months, compared to 3,900 for the same period last year.

CALIFORNIA, in general, is having an epidemic year of measles.

Club to Hold Fashion Show

A Shrine club fashion show featuring summer and fall fashions furnished by a Bay Area ladies' style salon will be held at Castlewood Country Club at noon June 28.

The theme of the affair will be "Swinging Into Summer" and Paul Speegle of San Francisco will be the commentator.

Tickets may be purchased from Tom Hazlett, president of the club at 14 Cambridge Court, Danville.

EBMUD Says Mystery Boxes Are No Mystery

Newest East Bay guessing game is trying to figure out why the East Bay Municipal Utility District is placing steel boxes, painted with yellow and black stripes, over some people's water meters.

"There's no great mystery about it," C. B. Adelmann, manager of EBMUD's Operations and Maintenance Division, said.

"The boxes house electronic recording devices, developed by EBMUD engineers. They provide a printed record of water use: when it is used and the rate at which it is used. It's part of a state-wide study of water use patterns, sponsored by the California Section of the American Water Works Association."

Adelmann said that EBMUD has 10 of the devices in operation in Alameda and Contra Costa counties. Each is attached to a home water meter — with the homeowner's permission — for a 15-day period, then moved to a new location. The device cannot affect anyone's water bill.

During the next three years, EBMUD will obtain water use data from approximately 400 homes. When this data is assembled, it will be studied statistically and should lead EBMUD engineers to useful conclusions regarding:

1. the length of time a meter should be left in service before being replaced;
2. the best size meter for the average household;
3. the time of day when water consumption is highest;
4. water losses due to leaks in home piping.

Useful hobby or play room. 2 bedrooms and 2 baths. Maid's quarters constituting a separate apartment. Upstairs are 4 more large bedrooms and 3 more baths, and an enclosed sleeping porch.
